The driver consented and said there was nothing illegal inside his vehicle. Officer Joshua Moala arrived to assist in the search and found a handgun in the front passenger seat compartment. During a consent search, officers found paraphernalia used to consume controlled substances in his possession. The subject, a 46-year old transient, was taken to Peninsula Hospital. A complaint will be sought for assault on a school employee and for possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Officer Bermudez stopped the subject and removed a 12-inch kitchen knife which was not in a sheath from the subject's waistband.
