Scams/Other

Car Accident Scam

Between 10-26-21 and 10-27-21, an 83-year old Daly City resident received a phone call from someone claiming to be a representative from the Luzerne County Courts Office in Pennsylvania claiming that his grandson was involved in a traffic collision, and she needed $8,000 to cover the medical bills. The caller provided the victim with an address and told him to send the money there, and it would be routed to his grandson. The victim sent the fees in three separate envelopes. The following day, the victim received another phone call asking for more money. During this phone call, the victim believed he was being scammed. A couple days later, he learned his grandson was not involved in a collision. The address where the money was sent was not for the courthouse, but in fact a general address for a community college in Pennsylvania.
