Greening Tips for the Holidays and Beyond

With all the concerns over supply shortages, this holiday season may be the perfect time to introduce some greening tips to your holiday shopping (and beyond the holidays). Here's some tips on how to be resourceful and practical, while being thoughtful and creative and green throughout the year!

- Gifts that last – Look for items that have a longer life than just this season and can be enjoyed or used for many years to come.
- Buy vintage – Second hand or antique shops are great places to find those special gifts.
- Shop local – Not only will this avoid shipping delays, but you'll be supporting your local businesses and reducing your carbon footprint.
- Living plants – Give a potted perennial plant or tree to those on your list with a green thumb. They can be replanted and will remind them of your gift year round.
- Give an experience – Give tickets to a show, concert or sporting event that will create wonderful memories.
- Wrap it up – Use old newspapers, magazines, maps or children's artwork instead of buying wrapping paper. Better yet, make the wrapping a part of the gift such as using cloth napkins. Or use reusable tins, boxes or baskets. And don't forget to save ribbons, bows and packing materials for future use as these can't be recycled.
- Use LED lights – Decorating your home or holiday tree with LED lights not only uses less energy, but can also save you money on your utility bill.

If able, take pictures and videos of the dumping. Keep a safe distance and do not engage with the violators.
